

IMPACT

The socio-economic climate in British Columbia is changing, and the partnership between the Gitga'at Nation and AMS reflects the future of our province's prosperity. Working with Gitga'at and BC's Indigenous People as partners in the provincial economy represents a powerful expression of reconciliation in action.

GITGA'AT AMS INDUSTRIAL SERVICES LTD

Gitga'at Development Corporation and Advanced Millwright Services are proud to announce a Joint Venture Partnership that will service the construction and maintenance needs of Northwest BC.

The Gitga'at Nation, whose name means "People of the Cane," are members of the Tsimshian Nation. The heart of Gitga'at's territory is Hartley Bay, which is found at the confluence of Douglas and Grenville Channels. Since time immemorial, Tsimshian Nation has had a presence in a region that includes Kitimat, Terrace and Prince Rupert.
